

PROGRAM TITLE: 'Chocolat!' or 'Willie Wonka and Chocolate Fountain'BRIEF PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:

Movie and Chocolate: A winning combination

MATERIALS NEEDED:

Chocolate fountain

Toothpicks

Small paper plates

'Chocolat' or 'Willie Wonka & the Chocolate Factory' on DVD

TV with DVD player or a projector

COST: $25 or less on chocolate chips and oil and plates. I borrowed the fountain and the DVD.

PROGRAM PROCEDURE:

Preregistration is necessary. Everyone that registered was expected to bring 'dippers' to share for the fountain. Follow the instructions for the fountain that you are using. Set the dippers out buffet style. I had the teens put 4 dippers on a plate, use the fountain, they go to the back of the line. This kept things moving. After they had their fill and the chocolate ran out, they gathered to watch the movie. I had both choices above and kids picked which one to attend. I had the movies in separate rooms. We are fortunate to have a projector with a large screen.

Entry requirements for this program are registration and 1 dozen or more dippers for the chocolate fountain.

Dipper suggestions: marshmallows, pineapple chunks, strawberries, banana chunks, Nilla wafers, shortbread chunks, etc. Anything that is bite-sized that will taste good dipped in chocolate will work.

SUGGESTIONS FOR MARKETING THIS PROGRAM

Library website, school flyers, newspaper, posters, facebook, twitter

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS:

The chocolate fountain takes about 30 minutes. The rest of the program depends on the length of film that you choose. You can have as many teens as you have chocolate for or the proper size screen for viewing the movie. You also need another chaperone if you have 2 movies going in separate rooms.
